Webstore Navigation

On the left side, you'll find the navigation section. The menu can be collapsed and expanded using the icon with three horizontal lines stacked on top of each other. This will allow you to hide or reveal the menu as needed. The navigation includes four sections, each of which will be discussed in detail in its respective chapter.

At the top of the view, the left side always displays name of the current section you are in. On the right side, you'll find a button for selecting the language. The available languages are German and English, with English set as the default. To change the language, simply click the button and select your preferred option (DE for German and EN for English).

Finally, to the right of the language switch, there is a button for logging in. The login and account creation processes will be explained later in the Account chapter.
